The Janesville Daily Gazette.

VOLUME 24 | Entered at the Post Office at Janesville, Wis., as second-class matter. | JANESVILLE, WISCONSIN, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1881. | Published Every Evening Except Sunday, at $7 a Year. | NUMBER 282

The Indians in the Territories, and the pension claim agents at Washington, are still a vexation to the country.

If there is a man in Ohio who has not had office during the past four years, it is not the fault of President Hayes.

According to the recent census, the center of population in Wisconsin is near the eastern line of Columbia county, a little north of Colembus. The geographical center of the State is in the vicinity of Grand Rapids, in Wood county.

There are indications that Stanley Matthews will not be confirmed as associate justice of the Supreme Court. Conkling is opposed to him and this fact, beside the general prejudice against him in the Senate, will surely defeat him.

Wisconsin hasn't done much during the winter in the way of making a beaten path through the snow to General Garfield's house at Mentor; but it did first class service at the Chicago convention, and has first class timber for cabinet positions.

It is interesting to observe how funny the Democrats in Congress are over the electoral count business. They want some kind of a resolution regarding the electora court. They can have it, but only eating their own words about "State rights," and the Republicans may let them go ahead with it, but next Wednesday will proceed to count in Garfield.

In the river and harbor appropriation bill now before Congress, there is an item of $182,000 for Wisconsin, and is divided as follows:

Menominee	$12,000	Sturgeon Bay	$10,000
Milwaukee	15,000	Two Rivers	15,000
Port Washington	15,000	Manitowoc	4,000
Racine	6,000	Kenosha	5,000
Superior Bay	5,000	Green Bay	5,000
		Ahnapee	5,000

The aggregate amount of the river and harbor bill is ten millions, and of this amount the Mississppi river gets $1,841,000.

Some new estimates have been made in regard to the amount which will be required to pay the pensions under the present pension law. A few days ago, Commissioner Bentley, of the pension office, made an estimate for Secretary Schurz, that the cost of pensions this year would be nearly sixty millions, and that the arrearage law which went in operations two years ago, would cost the country more than five hundred million dollars. Since Mr. Bentley made his estimates which startled the country, a pension claim agent at Washington, went before the committee which is investigating the operations of the pension law, and presented a far different view of the case. He estimates that it will not require more than one hundred and thirty millions to pay arrears to all claimants who will be entitled to the future benefits under the arrears law. The statements of a claim agent in Washington should be taken with considerable allowance. They are not the ones who are apt to give impartial testimony. Beside that, Commissioner Bentley's estimates of two years ago have proved to be nearer the facts than those made by claim agents and members of Congress who championed the arrears bill.

General Garfield had a long interview at Mentor with a clergyman a few days ago, when the President-elect related the the following incident which happened at the Chicago convention. During the day before the dead-lock was broken, the General was going to the convention hall when he passed a Moody and Sankey man who was actively engaged in handing out leaves to every one who passed. One was given to Garfield, and thinking it was a patent medicine advertisement, was about to throw it down, when he saw it was a leaf from the Bible. He put it in his coat pocket and thought no more of it. After the nomination was made, he received telegrams in great numbers from all parts of the country, and when he got to the hotel from the convention hall, General Garfield told his secretary to put all the dispatches in his trunk, and when they got home they could answer them. He handed the secretary the telegrams he had put in his coat pocket, and among them was the leaf of scripture he took from a man the day before, which was so folded that only one verse could be read, which was: "The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner. This is the Lord's doing, and it is marvelous in our eyes."

Another attempt is being made in the Legislature to enact a law prohibiting members of the Legislature from accepting passes from railway companies. The unfortunate member who heads the movement this year is Peder Ekern, of Juneau county. He may be honest in his feeble effort to inaugurate a reform, but his judgment is at fault. His bill is an assumption that members of the Legislature can not vote honestly and courageously with a railway pass in their pockets. It is a confession on the part of Mr. Ekern that a railway pass seduces a member to that extent that he can not vote against one of these corporations when they have bills before the Legislature. It is an acknowledgment that a member is not an independent man, self-reliant, and proof against bribery when he accepts a little favor from a railway company. For the sake of all the honor there is attached to the position of a member of the Legislature, we hope the bill introduced by Mr. Ekern will be indefinitely postponed. It is a reflection on the members which is unjust, undeserved, and should not be made. Probably Mr. Ekern measures every man by his own standard. He may be one of these weak brothers whom a railway pass will influence, and if he is he is certainly out of place in the Legislature. It is hoped that his bill, which doubtless was introduced for the purpose of gaining a little cheap notoriety, will be killed. It has no business on the statute books. If the Legislature should be foolish enough to pass the bill, it will be inoperative for reasons already given in the Gazette. It is about time the foolishness about the pass business should stop; and any man who would vote for the bill virtually tells his constituents that he hasn't the manhood to vote for their interests while he accepts a pass from railways. Such a man can not be trusted anywhere, and can not fairly represent his district. Every member of the Legislature should have common sense enough, manly courage enough, and honesty enough, to accept any courtesy which a railway corporation may lawfully grant, and in the face of all that, to vote like an honest man, and as between the people and the corporations to stand up for the people if the interests of the corporations are opposed to those of the people.

WASHINGTON, February 4.—The President has gone to New York.

ROBERT T. LINCOLN.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Feb. 3—It is understood that Robert T. Lincoln, of Chicago, has been endorsed by General Grant, Senators Logan and Davis, and all the Illinois Congressmen, for secretary of of the interior, and while his appointment to this department is not decided upon, it is reasonably certain that he will be invited into the cabinet.

President B. A. Hinsdale, of Hiram College, will be private secretary to the next President.

THE ELECTORAL COUNT.

The Morgan Resolution Before the United States Senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3—The concurrent resolution on the electoral count, introduced by Senator Morgan on the 15th of June last year, was discussed in the Senate. The resolution declares that the president of the Senate is not invested by the constitution with the right to count the electors for president and vice-president of the United States. Senator Edmunds was opposed to the consideration of the resolution at the present time, and moved to lay it on the table, which was negatived by a vote of 32 to 22. Hoar, Windom, Booth and Conkling were opposed to the consideration of the question, as important and pressing business awaited the action of the Senate. During the discussion Conkling said that he agreed with Morgan that the Vice-President had no power in the matter of the count, and that the Senate and House had quasi-judicial authority over it. Senator Edmunds moved an amendment to the effect that neither the Senate, House, nor President of the Senate were invested by the constitution with the power to make the count, but the amendment was rejected by a party vote of 28 to 18. The Republicans then absented themselves to prevent a quorum, and there was no final action on the resolution.

PRESIDENTIAL SPITE.

The President and the Senate at Loggerheads.

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 3.—The many objectionable nominations which the President has sent to the Senate recently have so disgusted Senators that there is a feeling extant to refuse to act on any nominations, but to let all fail that are pending, and have the new administration make nominations to fill the vacancies. The feeling is that the President is indulging in a deal of petty spite-work, and the way to haul him up is to pigeon-hole henceforward all his nominations, be they good or bad. While this will, of course, operate against some very good appointments, the argument is used that they can afford to wait until General Garfield assumes the Presidential office. The direct insults which the President has heaped upon Senator Conkling through the recent New York appointments has created a sympathy for the Senator, and if he desires the rejection of these nominations a majority of the Senate will stand by him. It is unfortunate for Stanley Matthews that his nomination for the Supreme Court is pending while the Senate is in this ruffled humor; and it is probable that in his case action may be deferred until the new administration comes in. In such event, of course, General Garfield, to put Matthews on the bench, would have to re-nominate him. This, it is believed, he would do; and it is moreover believed that the Senate will in such contingency confirm him.

VIRGINIA REPUBLICANS.

A Delegation of Republicans Enroute for Mentor.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3—A delegation of Virginia Republicans passed through here to-day, enroute to Mentor. They gave out that they go to urge the appointment of Samuel M. Yost, editor of the Valley Virginian, to a place in the cabinet. Yost is the gentleman who got into such bad repute with the Bourbons last summer for publishing the speech of Wade Hampton, wherein he exhorted his hearers to remember what Lee and Jackson would have done. It is believed that the chief object of their visit is to tell General Garfield what a bad man Mahone is, and to warn him to have nothing to do with the wily Readjuster, who has presented his case to the public, and asked for a popular verdict as to his honesty on the debt question. These Virginia Republicans fear that Mahone will be given the patronage of Virginia, and in return support the administration.

A WICKED FUSIONIST.

AUGUSTA, Me., Feb. 3.—Thomas B. Swan, a Fusion member of the Legislature, is wanted on the charge of having swindled a number of persons through the United States mails. Swan, it appears, advertised a patent corn-sheller, which consisted of a piece of stove-pipe, and which cost only a few cents, at $4.30; a mowing-machine and knife sharpener, which was a mere piece of wood dipped in shellac, at $5. He also advertised some "snide" jewelry. In fact, he was a general manufacturing company, a jewelry manufacturing company, a rake company, and several other companies besides. He found victims, and left Augusta last Saturday about $1,000 richer by his enterprise, and has not since been heard from.

UNITED WORKMEN.

MADISON, Feb. 3.—The following officers for the ensuing year were elected at the session of the Grand Lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen held here to-day:

Grand Master Workman, B. F. Parker, of Mauston.

Grand Foreman, C. W. Carter, of Waupaca.

Grand Overseer, W. S. Arnold, of Menominee.

Grand Recorder, H. C. Heath, of La Crosse.

Grand Receiver, J. H. Marston, of Appleton.

Grand Guide, E. S. McBride, of Madison.

Grand Inside Watchman, J. H. Webster, of Eau Claire.

Grand Outside Watchman, E. D. Trudgeon, of Whitewater.

Grand Trustee, W. S. Huntington, of Durand.

Representatives to the supreme lodge, B. F. McMullen, of Milwaukee, C. M. Masters, of Sparta, D. E. Moore, of Bangor.

WISCONSIN FIRES.

WHITEWATER, Feb. 3.—The village schoolhouse at Lima, six miles west of Whitewater, was burned to the ground last night with all its contents. The fire probably caught from the stove. Damage, $1,000 or $1,200; uninsured.

MANITOWOC, Feb. 3.—Two large frame buildings, corner of Main and Madison streets, owned and occupied by A. Burkert as a dwelling, saloon, and dance hall, were destroyed by fire last night. Loss, $2,000; insurance, $1,500.

THE MEANEST ON RECORD.

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 3.—Judge Mallory to-day sentenced James Hicks to a six months term of imprisonment in the house of correction for cruelly beating his wife. The testimony in the case showed that Hick's had lashed his wife's naked back with a belt, using the buckle, and had then nailed her into a closet and poured cold water upon her until tired of the pastime, leaving her in the closet from 9 o'clock in the morning until 4 the next morning. Mrs. Hicks testified that a dispute about a pair of shoes was the cause of the punishment, while Hicks alleged that he had punished her for being unchaste and intemperate.

WHAT A JURY KNOWS.

CHICAGO, February 3.—The acumen displayed by the average coroner's jury is somewhat astounding. In the case of Henry Schellhausen, a Blue Island shoemaker, who was run over by a Rock Island train, the following intelligent verdict was rendered:

We find that he came to his death by being accidentally run over by cars on the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific road, on the night of February 1, but how, and in what manner he came there, is unknown. And we further find that the railroad is not to blame for said accident.

They didn't know anything about the case, but were certain that the man was accidently killed.

Some Early Cold Snaps.

Lisle (New York) Gleaner

Last week was a good one for those old gents to sit around the stove and tell about the cold weather they "used to have." A couple of them came into the Gleaner office, and thus they did converse:

"Were having some pretty wintrish weather," said old Dady Wotherspoon to Uncle Sammy Honniwell. "Right smart for the season."

"Jist so, jist so," conceded Uncle Sammy. "Reminds me of the fall of 1831. It commenced 'long the fore part of November and froze stiff till March. Good smart weather, too. I remember that it was so cold in Yorkshire that bilin' water froze over a hot fire."

Daddy Wotherspoon looked at him and braced himself. "Yes, yes, said he, "I mind it well. That was the fall that the milk froze in the cows. But the cold season was in 1827. It commenced in the middle of October and ran through to April. All the oil froze in the lamps, and we didn't have a light until spring set in."

"Ay, ay," responded Uncle Sammy. "But that wasn't as cold as the winter of 1821. That season commenced in September, and the mercury didn't rise a degree till May. Don't you remember how we used to breath hard, let it freeze, cut a hole in it and crawl in for shelter? You haven't forgotten that winter have you?"

"Not I," said Daddy Wotherspoon, after a short pause. "But that was nothing to the spell of 1817. I got through that whole spell by living in an ice house. It was too cold to go out doors, and I jist camped in an ice house. You remember that winter of 1817? That's the winter we wore undershirts of sand paper to keep up a friction."

"Well, I should say I did," retorted Uncle Sammy. "What, remember 1817? 'Deed I do. That was the spell when it took a steam grindstone 4 days to light a match. Ay, ay! But do you know I was uncomfortable warm all that winter?"

"How so?"

"Runnin' around your ice house to find out how you got in. How long did it last? From August till the 30th of June. But you mind the snap of 1813, don't you? It commenced on the 1st of July and went around and lapped over a week. That year the smoke froze in the chimneys and we had to blast it out with dynamite. I think that was the worst we ever had. There was a heap o' sufferin' that winter, because we lived on alcohol froze, and then eat the brimstone ends of matches and jumped around till they caught fire. Say you—"

But Daddy Wotherspoon had fled. statistics were too much for him.

Miss Florence Smith, age thirteen, went a few days ago, to the ladies' reception-room of the United States Senate and asked to see Senator Whyte. He was not there at the time, and one of the assistant sergeants-at-arms acted as his proxy. The little girl told him that her errand was to obtain an office under the government. She said that her mother was dead, and her father contributed nothing to her support. She resided with her aunt, Mrs. Frank, in Washington city, but the latter was poor, and so she had determined to earn a living for herself. She was earning $1 a week in attending to a store, but that was not enough to pay her board. When asked what she could do, she replied: "Anything that any other girl can do." When Senator Whyte reached the capitol the next day he found the little girl anxiously awaiting him. She handed him a roll of papers showing who she was, and also a recommendation from her present employer. Delivering the papers to the Senator she remarked. "You see, I am sufficiently recommend and highly vouched for." She had found a place in the government printing office that would, she thought, exactly suit a girl of her age. Ex-Governor Whyte gave her a letter to Public Printer Defrees, stating her case and requesting him, if possible, to find a place for her, concluding the epistle with the words: "of such is the kingdom of heaven." Little Florence received the letter gratefully, and went on her way rejoicing, promising that if she met with no success at the printing office, she would pay the Senator another call.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 4

Table Manners.

To those who merely "eat to live," it may seem a matter of small consequence how one is dressed when he comes to the table, or how he behaves during the meal. But a very little thought ought to convince the most careless person who is not altogether "of the earth, earthy," that good manners at the table are preferable to bad manners and that it is conducive alke to comfort and a sense of "the fitness of things," that the members of the family should come to the daily repasts, not only with clean hands and face, but neatly attired. The few moments spent in preparation for the table are not time misspent. On the contrary, the slight loss of time is more than made up by the increased charm of the family gathering. One can eat as heartily in "shirt-sleeves" or with towsled locks as in a decent coat or with nicely-ordered hair; but the atmosphere, so to speak, of the table will be far more agreeable and refined in one case than in the other. The simple formality of putting on a coat and brushing the hair has a tendency to exalt the meal from a mere feeding-process into a festival, not only for eating and drinking, but for the interchange of social courtesies and pleasant words. Of course, no amount of outside polish can do this unless the members of the family have it in them to be courteous and agreeable; but, given the disposition, the dressing up for the table has its effect—and no small one, too—in transmuting the inward feeling into outward action.

With regard to the behavior at table a contributor to the Evening Post gives some excellent hints, of which the following are the chief:

"It is impossible to estimate properly the immense influence which is exerted upon a household by the atmosphere of the family table. A neat, well-ordered table is in itself a lesson to the children. To the inviting table, where there should be always something attractive, however simple the meal may be, most children will come prepared to behave properly.

"It really is worth while, and when philosophically considered is a matter of great importance, to lay aside as far as possible all thoughts of the hard work done before and to be done after a meal and to allow no vexatious questions to be discussed at this time. The habit of brooding over our work and exhausting ourselves by going it all over in our minds is one to be studiously avoided. There is nothing which takes from one's energy more than this, and it is a frequent cause of insanity. Everybody knows that food digests better when eaten in agreeable company. It was something more than a pleasantry which made a friend remark that he could not have his wife and child pass the summer vacation away from him, as it gave him dyspepsia. The poor child who comes to grief at the table and is sent away from it with his dinner half eaten, and who suffers the whole afternoon with an undigested lump of food in his stomach, is to be pitied.

"It follows, then, that pleasant surprises in the way of preparing favorite dishes, that good taste and much painstaking in arranging all the appointments of the table and dining-room, rise above a mere ministering to the animal existence, and affect the fine issues of life. Good behavior and cheerfulness ought to accompany each meal as naturally and unvaryingly as bread and butter. The happy laughter which distributes nervous force and calls the blood from the brain, allowing the stomach to get its share, should be heard more frequently at our tables. No one should feel at liberty to say one word which is not at least kind and thoughtful, any more than he would withhold a sufficient quantity of food."
—Examiner and Chronicle.

Fashionable Tippling in England.

Not long ago a strange scene took place in a pretty garden not a hundred miles from London. The tree shaded lawn was scattered over with seats, with here and there a bright-colored Persian rug for the special behoof of any guests who object to open air amusements on account of the "damp grass." To some minds grass is always damp. It was early in the afternoon, and the only tenants of the garden were the servants, who were arranging refreshments upon some tables under the trees. They seemed full of nods and becks and whispers of apparently mysterious import passed among them. A carriage drives up to the gate and two ladies, entering, look around for their hostess. The servant who has admitted them goes in search of his mistress, and a few moments afterwards a young and beautifully dressed woman issues from the house, her face deeply flushed, her eyes half closed and her gait uncertain. Just at this moment another carriage drives up, a gentleman and lady being the occupants. They, too, enter by the garden gate and advance towards the house across the lawn. As they approach the uncertain, swaying figure of their hostess they look at each other significantly, and the lady says in a low voice, "I was afraid of this. Where can Mr. X. be to allow her to be seen in this state?"

The interpretation of those wild looks, that disordered hair and those meaningless words is that Mrs. X. is intoxicated, though not sufficiently so to be quite helpless. She wanders about among her guests, her condition, however, being so palpable, so unmistakable, that the majority laugh and titter, while the friendly few pity though they condemn her. The painful scene was ended by the arrival of her husband, whose look of misery, as he led his wife on his arm through the groups of gayly-dressed people into the house, touched even the laughers with pity.—London Truth.

2nd Edition of Job.

Mrs. Ogden, N. Division Street, Buffalo, says: I cannot be too thankful that I was induced to try your Spring Blossom. I was at one time afraid I should never be able to get out again. I seemed to be a second edition of Job without his patience; my face and body were one vast collection of Boils and Pimples; since taking one bottle of your Spring Blossom I am quite cured, all eruptions have disappeared and I feel better than I have for a long time. Price, 50 cents, trial bottles 10 cents.

A PROMISE is a just debt, which you must take care to pay, for honor and honesty are the best security.

—Soft Corns.—Dip a piece of linen cloth in turpentine and wrap it around the toe on which the corn is situated night and morning. The relief will be immediate, and, after a few days, the corn will disappear.

—A ragged old tramp was arrested at Buffalo. When taken to the police station and subjected to the customary search, he resisted furiously. His reason was apparent when $3,242 in bonds and money was found sewed up in his clothes.

GINGERBREAD.—One cup sirup, two tablespoonfuls melted butter, one teaspoonful ginger; mix thoroughly together; one teaspoonful saleratus in one cup of boiling water; let it cool a few moments, then put all together, and stir in lightly three cups of flour.

A THOROUGH examination of the eyes of all the school children in Philadelphia is being made. Almost one-half of the eyes thus far tested were found in condition other than perfectly normal, and many were so diseased as to make rest imperatively necessary.

THE Indian Government has offered a prize of $500 for the best hygienic manual for soldiers in India. —Juvenile delinquents in England are now to be whipped in most cases, instead of being imprisoned, and supplies of birch rods are being sent to all the police stations. A physician must always be present at a whipping, a precaution never taken at English public schools of the Eton, Winchester, Charterhouse type, it may be observed.

TO CLEAN BLACK CLOTH.—Dissolve one ounce of bicarbonate of ammonia in one quart of warm water. With this liquid rub the cloth, using a piece of flannel or black cloth for the purpose. After the application of this solution, clean the cloth well with clear water; dry and iron it, brushing the cloth from time to time in the direction of the fiber.

—Chili Sauce.—One dozen fair-sized onions, twenty-four ripe tomatoes, four teaspoonfuls of salt, eight of sugar, three of ground cloves, four of cinnamon, two of ginger, one of ground black pepper, two of mustard, two and one half cups of vinegar. Chop tomatoes and onions fine, add spices; boil two and a half hours. Add vinegar, hot, after the ingredients have boiled one hour.

—How to Cover the Sick.—Never use anything but light blankets to cover the sick. The heavy, impervious counterpane is bad, for the reason that it keeps the exhalations from the pores of the sick person, while the blanket allows them to pass through. Weak persons are invariably distressed by a great weight of bed-clothes, which often prevents their getting any sound sleep whatever.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ames of San Francisco agreed that they were unsuited to each other, and that a separation was desirable, but how to obtain a divorce was puzzling, because neither had a grievance that would stand the test of the law. Their conclusion was that the husband should give the wife ground for complaint by whipping her; so he amiably knocked her down, and she got a divorce.

—Another queer freak of lightning is related, and it wasn't Jersey lightning either, but French lightning. That is, it struck in France, where, during a violent storm a young man was carrying an unlighted carriage lamp along the street. He felt a severe electric shock in his arm, heard it thunder instantaneously, looked down at the lamp in his hand, and behold, it had been lighted by the shock and was burning quietly.

MOST actors forget about as readily as they learn, and a few days will often suffice to destroy their perfect memory of a role. On a recent voyage from England John McCullough and Rose Coghlan were aboard, and the passengers, on getting up an entertainment, put them down for a scene from "Macbeth." Although Macbeth is one of McCullough's star parts, and Miss Coghlan had not long before acted Lady Macbeth, they were unable to recall the language with anything like accuracy, and as there wasn't a copy of the play on the steamer the perfomance had to be omitted.

A BIG locomotive has recently been constructed for use on the New York Central Railroad. It is named "William H. Vanderbilt." It is an "eight-wheeler," with driving wheels six and a half feet, thirty-three inch truck wheels, fifty-inch boiler and cylinders eighteen by twenty-four inches, and is furnished with air-brakes and the new "spark arrester," somewhat improved. It is claimed that this locomotive can draw twenty loaded coaches. This will be a vast improvement, as the old model engines have had trouble with sixteen, even when two engines were drawing the train.

The Packing of Trunks.

It is said that a woman cannot wrap up a paper parcel or sharpen a lead pencil as well as a man. It is true there have been women who have shown themselves quite equal to men in these little enterprises, but these exceptions may be said to merely prove the general rule. Candor and a profound veneration for the truth compels one to admit, however, that such women are uncommon products of nature. A kinder statement, and one equally hard to disprove, is this: A man cannot pack a trunk as satisfactorily, systematically and conveniently as a woman. He values his time too highly, and objects to dusting or making glossy the knees of his garments. This peculiar occupation is not large enough for his superior nature, nor satisfying to his intellectual powers; but, all the same, he likes to find everything in its proper place and free from wrinkles when he reaches the end of a journey. Indeed, there have been instances when he bestowed that curious thing which he is pleased to call a piece of his mind upon a valise or a trunk that proved to be less orderly in its arrangements than he anticipated.

The trunk which will hold a great deal and yet will not take up much room, has but a single tray and no compartments, boxes or drawers. If, however, space need not be economized, the interior is divided up to furnish receptacles for different articles of attire. A trunk of light weight, yet which is substantial, has many conveniences. It is a mistake to suppose that a heavy trunk is stronger than a more flexible, light-framed article. A small amount of observation added to a trifling quantity of humanity, makes it easy for one to forgive a careless and even a vicious handling of certain enormous pieces of luggage belonging to American female travelers. The English lady prefers a wicker basket in trunk shape, with a lock and key. It is strong, capacious, and has a cover of waterproof cloth carefully fastened about it by short leather straps. This sensible article is gradually coming into use in America, to carry costumes, skirts, and large pieces of raiment, which cannot be crushed without showing wrinkles.

In packing a lady's trunk never forget to place the heavy articles of underwear, neatly folded and compactly crowded together, at the bottom. If a bonnet is to be included pack it in a paper box that is as small as possible. Arrange the white garments about it, so that when they are all disposed of they will present as level a surface as possible. Stockings neatly turned into each other and merino or silk undervests, etc., tidily rolled up, are excellent articles to crowd into the vacancies about the bonnet box, and also into spaces caused by garments with gathered tops. Starched skirts should be folded into as broad pieces as the trunk will admit, and their tops folded over or under to suit convenience. Above them place the dress skirts, also folded as broadly as possible, carefully preserving the smoothness of their lower parts and over these lay the neatly folded waists. Now place a towel over them and tuck it neatly down about the dresses to further secure them from dust. If the tray sinks down too easily, on account of the trunk not having enough in it, add a shawl, newspaper, or any convenient articles that will prevent the packed garments from becoming disarranged. In the tray, collars, ribbons, laces, gloves and all the etceteras of a lady's toilet should be neatly arranged either in or out of paper boxes. Fans and parasols should be wrapped in towels or soft papers. Shoes should be placed in linen pockets prepared for their reception. After everything is in the trunk, cover the topmost articles with a towel, and be sure to fill in with something if there is any space still left. This style of packing will carry the finest of dresses and skirts a great distance without injury.

After Eight Long Years.

C. C. Jacobs, 78 Folsom Street, Buffalo, an employee of the U. S. Express Co., says: Dr. Thomas Electric Oil cured him of a severe case of Piles of 8 years standing, having had tried almost every known remedy, "beside two Buffalo Physicians," without relief; but the Oil cured him; he thinks it cannot be recommended too highly.

Freaks of a Crazy Woman.

Friday afternoon Mrs. Sarah Demarest, the wife of a well-to-do farmer, about three miles from Ellenville, while laboring under a fit of insanity, set fire to her husband's house and barns, and then, in an effort to escape restraint, shot herself in the head. Mrs. Demarest had been troubled in her mind for some time, but before Friday her ailment had not assumed a dangerous turn and it was not considered necessary to place her under restraint. While the members of the family were away Mrs. Demarest procured two or three feather beds, piled them under the piano in the parlor and then saturated them with kerosene oil. Before setting fire to the pile she went to the barns, a short distance from the house and poured a quantity of kerosene on the hay. She then ignited both the barns and the house and was dancing around the burning buildings when her husband arrived. He succeeded in extinguishing the fire in the house after the furniture in the parlor was almost destroyed. The barns, which were large and filled with the crops of this season, together with a large number of agricultural implements, were burned to the ground, causing a loss to Mr. Demarest of nearly $4,000. After starting the fires Mrs. Demarest armed herself with a loaded revolver, and going out into an open field, threatened to shoot any person who came near or attempted to interfere with her. Her husband and the neighbors made several attempts to approach her, but she kept them off by pointing the cocked revolver. Finally one of them succeeded after a long parley in getting within reach of her, when he made a sudden spring to obtain possession of the revolver. He was not quick enough, for the woman raised the weapon to her head and pulled the trigger, the ball striking her in the forehead and passing upward plowed through the skin and passed out at the top of her head. The wound was a flesh one and is not dangerous. Mrs. Demarest was then sent to the asylum at Middletown.—Poughkeepsie (N. Y.) Eagle.

Strong Evidence.

I have sold at retail price since the 4th of December last 156 bottles of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, guaranteeing every bottle. I must say I never sold a medicine in my life that gave such universal satisfaction. In my own case, with a badly Ulcerated Throat, after a physician penciling it for several days to no effect, the Electric Oil cured it thoroughly in twenty-four hours, and in threatened croup in my children this winter it never failed to relieve almost immediately.

OF THE Throat, Lungs, Heart, Stomach, Liver.

Head, nerves, kidneys, bladder, womb, and blood affections of the urinary organs, gravel, scrofula, rheumatism, catarrh, asthma, bronchitis, dyspepsia, &c.

Hha been acquired by candid, honest dealing and years of successful practice.

My practice, not one of experiment, but founded on the laws of Nature, with years of experience and evidence to sustain it, does not tear down, make sick to make well; no harsh treatment, no trifling, no flattering. We know the cause and the remedy needed; no guess work, but knowledge gained by years of experience in the treatment of Chronic Diseases exclusively; no encouragement without a prospect. Candid in our opinions, reasonable in our charges, claim not to know everything or cure everybody, but do lay claim to reason and common sense. We invite the sick, no matter what their ailment, to call and investigate before they abandon hope, make interrogations and decide for yourselves; it will cost nothing as consultation is free. Visits made regularly.

☞ KIDNEGEN is highly recommended and unsurpassed for WEAK or FOUL KIDNEYS, DROPSY BRIGHT'S DISEASE LOSS of ENERGY, NERVOUS DEBILITY, or any OBSTRUCTIONS arising from KIDNEY or BLADDER DISEASES. Also for Yellow Fever, Blood and Kidney Poisoning, in infected malarial sections.

☞ By the distillation of a FOREST LEAF with JUNIPER BERRIES and BARLEY MALT we have discovered KIDNEGEN, which acts specifically on the Kidneys and Urinary Organs, removing injurious deposits formed in the bladder and preventing any straining, smarting sensation, heat or irritation in the membraneous lining of the ducts or water passages. It excites a healthy action in the Kidneys giving them strength, vigor, and restoring these organs to a healthy condition, showing the effects on both the color and easy flow of urine. It can be taken at all times, in all climates and under all circumstances without injury to the system. Unlike any other preparation for Kidney difficulties it has a very pleasant and agreeable taste and flavor. It has been difficult to make a preparation containing positive diuretics properties which will not nauseate, but be acceptable to the stomach. Before taking any Liver medicine try a bottle of KIDNEGEN to CLEANSE THE KIDNEYS from foul matter. Try it and you will always use it as a family medicine. Ladies especially will like it, and Gentlemen will find KIDNEGEN the best Kidney Tonic ever used.

NOTIFE.—Each bottle bears the signature of LAWRENCE & MARTIN, also a Proprietary Stamp, which permits KIDNEGEN to ae sold (without license) by druggists, grocers and other persons everywhere.

Put Up in Quart Size Bottles for General and Family Use.

If not found at your druggists or grocers, we will send a bottle prepaid to the nearest express office to you.

MISCELLANEOUS.

—The missionaries in China find the opium traffic their chief hindrance. It is estimated that three million people a year perish owing to their inveterate habit of consuming this drug. The city of Ningpo has twenty-seven hundred opium shops.

—What will be the next device in fashionable jewelry no one can predict. The little gold elephant is now treading upon the heels of the jewel-eyed pig; and the spider, with his body of pearls and legs of silver, is crawling in among the latest novelties.

—At Rockcastle, Ky., a few days ago, a clergyman went to the house of one of his brethren to pass the night. He had just got seated when a hen flew into the house and attempted to alight on a rifle that hung on the wall. The weapon tipped over, falling on the lock, and was discharged, the ball taking effect in the thigh of the preacher, and causing finally lockjaw, from which he died.

—It is said that no rhymes exist in the English language for the words silver, orange, month, kiln, bilge and gulf, and yet in the face of this well-known impression, the ingenuous, clever and patient puzzle editor of the London Truth advertises that he will give £2 2s. to the one who best rhymes the greatest number of the stated words. He calls it a "go as you please" rhyming match in which no conditions are laid down, save that the best rhyme will win.

—New Mexico, however fruitful in natural wonders, has just presented another which is to crown all that have gone before. The city architect, or the official who holds the post corresponding to that in Las Placitas, has made the marvelous discovery that the pavements of the streets contain a very large proportion of gold. The place is constructed on a ledge of rock which it is estimated can be made to yield from $3,500 to $5,000 worth of gold per ton. The vein is calculated to be eighty-four paces wide by 9,000 feet in length, and if the estimate is borne out by the results of the crushing and amalgamation, an enormous quantity of gold will be extracted from the site of the village.

—The correspondent of the London Times accompanying the Montenegrin army writes: "The Montenegrins, instead of being the ruthless savages they have been described, are rough, honest, and courageous people. For ruthless and bloodthirsty savages, too, the education of the Montenegrins is very remarkable, as up to quite recent times there were Government schools in every small hamlet, and every man, woman and child learned to read and write. Unfortunately, however, the drain on the exchequer has been so enormous of late years through constant wars, conducted nowadays on more expensive European systems, that many of these have fallen into abeyance."

—In an interesting article on Indian transport animals, the London Times says: "Camels on the march are usually told off in strings of four, under the charge of one attendant or sarwan. This man should lead the front camel by his nose rope; the nose rope of the second is attached to the crupper of the one in front, and so on. The four animals in string cover a distance of about fifteen yards. If animals can be trained to follow their leader, it is far more merciful to attach the leading rope to the head collar than to the nose When camels are properly fed and looked after they are the cheapest of all pack carriage. Four good camels, with one attendant, will carry as much as nine mules or ponies with three attendants, and will eat considerably less. If this proportion is applied to transport animals by the thousand, it will be seen that, assuming equal staying powers and freedom from disease, there is a very great advantage in favor of camel transport."

Tea is quite a formidable meal. It is served by a man servant. First the teapot—or kettle, if named after its shape—is filled with green tea, sugar and water, in such proportions as to make a thick, sweet sirup, which is drunk without milk or cream. Then follows an infusion of tea and spearmint. Yet another of tea and wormwood. Yet another of tea and lemon verbena. And yet another of tea with citron. On great occasions a sixth is added, of tea and ambergris. Nothing is eaten. The "weed" usually follows; but the Moor, though a smoker, is not an "inveterate." Dinner consists of various dishes of mutton, fish and fowl, ingeniously and artistically served in mixtures of pomades, soups, spices and cosmetics; so, at least, Englishmen declare who have had in courtesy to swallow the preparations. Knives, forks and spoons are dispensed with, perhaps despised. The company sit cross-legged on the floor and gather round a central dish. At "In the name of God," which is the brief grace pronounced by the master of the house, the slave removes the cover from the bowl; lifted hands are thrust into the smoking dish and morsels of its contents, deftly rolled into convenient forms, are tossed, dripping, into the mouth with a neatness and precision truly wonderful. Exact portions are picked from fowl and fish and mutton-chop bone without delay or effort. After the course water and napkins are brought round. The wash over, another dish, and another plunging of the paws into the savory mess. Incense is often burned during dinner, which fills the apartment with delicate aroma.

An innocent, hard-working man yesterday lost a situation which he had held for a year, and which he believed secure for at least another year to come, and if this meets the eye of his late employer perhaps the man will be taken back. A citizen of Beach Street bought a cord of four-foot wood and the same was delivered early in the morning. As soon as the team had gone the citizen borrowed a quarter of a cord of the same sort of wood of a neighbor and added it to his pile and then rode down to the wharf and said:

"Mr. Blank, I see you have delivered my wood."

"Yes, sir—yes, sir—we always deliver at the earliest moment," was the reply.

"How much did you send?"

"A cord, sir—a full cord. We never cheat on measure."

"But I am not satisfied with it."

"Can't help that, sir; I sent a cord. I saw it loaded myself."

"I've measured it and——"

"Can't help your measure. There's a cord of wood there."

"I was going to say——"

"Can't help what you were going to say. I've been in the wood business too long to make any mistake."

"I was going to say there is over a cord."

"Over a cord? Ah! that's a different thing. That needs looking into. Get into my buggy and we'll drive up and measure it. I am glad to find one honest man in Detroit."

The pile overran a quarter of a cord, much to the dealer's amazement. When certain of the fact he could only scratch his head and say:

"Never heard of the like before—never, and I've been in the business a long time."

Within five minutes of his return to the office one of the drivers had his balance of wages and was walking off with the remark:

"How dat seben-eighths of a cord got all swelled up dat way am mo' dan I kin tumble into, an' I'ze got to go bar'-footed all winter to pay fur it!"—Detroit Free Press.

The Grand Canon of the Gunnison, which begins only a short distance from town, is equal in grandeur and wildness of scenery to the Canon of the Colorado, and throws the Canon of the Arkansas into the shade. It is upwards of forty miles long, and the mountains rise on either side to the height of upwards of 5,000 feet. As yet, the trout alone traverse the cleft mountain pass. The quickest way to send or get a dispatch from the outside world is via Lake City. The time consumed between Lake City and Gunnison is one stage, or twelve hours, while a dispatch from South Arkansas requires five days to reach here, as it follows the present very circuitous mail route, and takes the back track to Pueblo, thence to Alamosa, Lake City and Gunnison, over 300 miles out of a direct route. Thus, a dispatch sent from Denver to Gunnison via South Arkansas would take two days longer to reach its destination than would a letter from the same point. The Denver & Rio Grande Railroad people say they will be in Gunnison before the snow of this year covers the prairie. They are coming by way of Arbourville, over Little Cochetopa Pass, striking the Monarch Pass toll road at the mouth of Marshall Creek. The surveyors are now working down the Tomichi. Work on the extension will begin at once. No town ever gave a company a more hearty welcome than Gunnison will give the Denver & Rio Grande.—Gunnison News.

The Right of Way.

There was a Detroiter among the trio of officials who passed over the route of the Butler Railroad to secure the right of way. In some cases farmers cheerfully signed off; in others money had to be used, but in one case the committee found a most determined opposition. The road would divide a widow's farm and she was independent, obstinate and defiant. She knew that her haystacks and barns would be destroyed by sparks, her live stock run over by trains and her slumbers disturbed by the rattle of trains and she wouldn't listen to argument. In this emergency one of the committee said:

"Madam, do you know of any widow in this neighborhood who would be willing to board a gentleman connected with the construction of our road? He is a widower and prefers to board with a widow."

"No, I don't know as I do. Is he a nice man?"

"Splendid man, and has money in the bank. We want him to permanently locate at this point and are in hopes he will take a wife. It is unfortunate that——"

"I never did take boarders," she mused, "but——"

"If you only could, now, I'm sure you would not regret it. He is extremely fond of children and would be like a father to your little ones."

"Perhaps I might, to accommodate you."

"Ah! thanks. He would be here next week if this right of way matter was decided, but as it is he may not——"

"Do you agree to pay damages if you burn my barn?"

"Of course we do."

"And I'll probably get used to the noise?"

"O, of course. In a week you won't mind it. Fact is, you'll sit up every night till midnight, anyhow, after the gentleman arrives."

"O, no I shan't, I shall never love again; but if he is a nice man and loves children, why, I don't know as I ought to stop your road. I guess I'll sign!"—Detroit Free Press.

HELP Yourselves by making money when a golden chance is offered, thereby always keeping poverty from your door. Those who always take advantage of the good chances for making money that are offered, generally become wealthy, while those who do not improve such chances remain in poverty. The Leading American Newspaper

The New York Tribune for 1881

THE LARGEST CIRCULATION AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.

During the past year THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE reached the largest circulation it ever attained, with the single exception of a short period in the first Lincoln campaign. It is a larger circulation, and more widely distributed over the whole country than any ever enjoyed by any other newspaper in the United States. This fact may be taken as the verdict of the American People on THE TRIBUNE'S political force, its fidelity to sound principles, and its merits as a newspaper.

For 1881, THE TRIBUNE will try to deserve equally well of the public. It will labor for, and it confidently expects the incoming Administration to promote, a free and fair suffrage, South and North sound money, protection to Home Industry, judicious liberality in Internal Improvements, and a Civil Service conducted on business principles, on the theory of elevating, not of ignoring or degrading politics.

The well-known special features of THE TRIBUNE will be sedulously maintained. Its Agricultural Department will remain the fullest and best. The Household and the Young Folks' Departments, the literary, scientific and religious features, the standard market reports, will all be kept up, and, as opportunity offers, extended.

THE TRIBUNE PREMIUMS.

THE TRIBUNE has never been equalled in the substantial and permanent value of its premiums to agents and subscribers, and it adds to its list this year two of the most desirable it has ever offered. Note the following:

The Great Bible Concordance.

ANALYTICAL CONCORDANCE TO THE BIBLE, on an entirely new plan, containing every word in alphabetical order arranged under its Hebrew or Greek original, with the literal meaning of each and its pronunciation; exhibiting 311,000 references, 18,000 beyond Cruden; marking 30,000 various readings in the New Testament; with the latest information on Biblical Geography and Antiquities, etc., etc. By Robert Young, LL.D., author of a new Literal Translation of the Hebrew and Greek Scriptures; etc.; etc.

In one handsome quarto volume, containing over 1,000 three-column pages, very substantially bound in cloth. The pages and type are the same size as those of Webster's Unabridged Dictionary. It is at once a concordance, a Greek-Hebrew and English Lexicon of Bible words, and a scriptural Gazetteer. Every home that has a Bible in it ought also to have this great help to Bible-reading and study.

This great work was originally published in England in October, 1879, and was sold at $15. We can now offer it in connection with THE TRIBUNE at the following remarkably low rates:

For $6 the Concordance and one copy of THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE five years, or five copies one year.

For $11 the Concordance and one copy of THE SEMI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE five years, or five copies one year, or ten copies of THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE one year.

For $20 the Concordance and twenty copies of THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE one year.

The postage on the Concordance is 40 cents, which the subscriber will remit if wishing it sent by mail. Except for short distances the mail will be cheaper than the express.

Our second new premium for this year is the following:

The Library of Universal Knowledge.

Embracing Chamber's Encyclopædia complete, omitting only some of the cuts, with extensive additions by an able corps of American editors, treating about 15,000 additional topics, thoroughly Americanizing the entire work, adding to it over 25 per cent of the latest, freshest and most valuable matter, the whole making 15 Handsome Octavo Volumes of 6 by 9½ inches in size, printed in large type on good, strong, calendered paper, and neatly and substantially bound in cloth.

We can offer this valuable work in connection with THE TRIBUNE as follows:

For $15 THE LIBRARY OF UNIVERSAL KNOWLEDGE complete in 15 octavo volumes, substantially bound in cloth as above described, and THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE 5 years to one subscriber.

For $20 THE LIBRARY OF UNIVERSAL KNOWLEDGE as above described, and THE SEMI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE 5 years to one subscriber.

For $19 THE LIBRARY OF UNIVERSAL KNOWLEDGE as above described, and ten copies of THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE one year.

For $28 THE LIBRARY OF UNIVERSAL KNOWLEDGE as above described, and twenty copies of THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE one year.

Five volumes of the work are now ready, the sixth is nearly through the press, and the rest will rapidly follow. It will be sent by mail or express at the subscriber's expense. The postage, if sent by mail, will be 21 cents per volume. In packages, by express, they can be had much cheaper.

PROMPT WORK.

To induce quick work for this great premium we make the following MOST EXTRAORDINARY offer: With the first 2,000 orders received for THE LIBRARY OF UNIVERSAL KNOWLEDGE, we will send free, as a present, from THE TRIBUNE, Macaulay's History of England, in three handsome volumes, printed on large type and good paper, and neatly bound in cloth.

These books, like the others, will be sent at the subscriber's expense, by mail or express. The postage on the three volumes will be 21 cents.

A MAGNIFICENT GIFT.

Worcester's Great Unabridged Dictionary, Free!

THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE will send at subscriber's expense for freight, or deliver in New York City free, Worcester's Great Unabridged Quarto Illustrated Dictionary, bound in sheep, edition of 1879, the very latest and very best edition of that great work, to any one remitting

$10 for a single five years' subscription in advance, or five one-year subscriptions to THE WEEKLY, or

$15 for a single five years' subscription in advance, or five one-year subscriptions to THE SEMI-WEEKLY, or one year's subscription to THE DAILY, or,

$30 for a single three-years' subscription in advance to THE DAILY TRIBUNE.

For one dollar extra the Dictionary can be sent by mail to any part of the United States, while for short distances the express is much cheaper.

For any further information desired, address THE TRIBUNE, New-York.

BRIEFLETS.

—Temperance night.

—The Janesville Guards' social at Apollo hall to-night.

—"An Argentine City," at All Souls' parlors this evening.

—Why don't Jack Frost swear off. He's taking too many nips.

—Miss Lillian Childe DeLong gives readings in Elkhorn, to-night.

—The Wisconsin Shoe Company, of this city, has increased its capital to $100,000.

—One of the Smiths, whose front name is Thomas, was this morning sent to jail for a week for being a vag.

—Senator Richardson and Assemblymen Lawrence and Menzies returned, this afternoon, from Madison.

—Those who went, last evening, to the Janesville Grange hall and enjoyed the party given there, pronounce it a big success.

—D. E. Puffer, of the Wisconsin Shoe Company, has been confined to his room, in the Myers house, by several days' illness.

—The Second ward tin-horn-pan-and-bell brigade were out serenading last night, but did not prove much of a success.

—W. H. Bennett, of the Mineral Point Tribune, is in the city, the guest of Rev. Mr. Wells and wife, the latter being his sister.

—Remember the lecture this evening, by President Stearns, of the Whitewater Normal school. There should be a large audience.

—Moses C. Clement, the senior member of the Clement Bros.', concert troupe, died in Beloit yesterday morning of pneumonia.

—Beloit is to have a new fire alarm bell, and now the citizens want the boys to tap the number of the ward when an alarm is given.

—Invitations are out for the third annual reception of the Janesville Guards, which is to be given in Cannon's hall Feb. 25. It is to be a fancy dress masquerade, and will be an enjoyable one, sure.

—In front of one of our stores appears a sign "Hand Maid Warranted $3." Cheap enough, if she is anyway good looking, and the price being warranted to be only $3, she's a bargain for anyone who desires a cheap wife.

—Mr. Thayer, who for a time had a temperance billiard hall here, has failed to get a license for running a like place in Evansville, where the good folk won't have billiards, and has gone to Oregon, Wis., where he will open a room.

—Among the papers filed with the Secretary of State yesterday at Madison were articles incorporating the Great American and German Allied Shows. Capital, $100,000. Burr Robbins, R. L. Colvin, C. L. Valentine, and C. S. Jackman, incorporators.

—Dr. S. S. Judd has bought of H. M. Hart the three-story brick building adjoining the Gazette office on the south. He is planning to completely remodel and refit the second floor for offices for his own use, and will rent the first floor for some mercantile business.

—Martin Dolan, of this city, while coupling cars on Conductor Church's train, at Montrose, near Chicago, yesterday got his hand caught, injuring two fingers quite badly, and tearing the thumb nail off. His injuries were cared for at Dr. Isham's office in Chicago.

—Henry Allen seems to be going from bad to worse. Drink caused him to turn his family out of doors a short time ago, and yesterday he was on another wild drunk, and had to be locked up. This morning Justice Nolan fined him $10 and costs, and Allen not having the ready cash, was sent down for twenty days.

—We have no means of knowing how many of the Baptists observed their fast day yesterday, by checking their appetites but they observed it well so far as attending the meetings were concerned. There were a goodly number present yesterday afternoon, and last evening a covenant meeting was held which was also well attended.

—There is to be a grand temperance rally at the Baptist church next Sunday evening, at which time Rev. F. L. Chapell is to deliver a lecture on temperance, under the auspices of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. The Union has extended formal invitations to all the temperance organizations of the city to attend this as well as other lectures given under its auspices, and everybody else is also cordially invited to be present.

—George Thurman, who was on trial, yesterday afternoon, before Justice Nolan, for embezzling $16 belonging to Charles Davis, was discharged. Davis claimed that Thurman sold a horse for him for $166, and only paid him $150, saying that was all he got. Thurman claimed that the agreement was that all he could get over $150 should be his to pay him for his trouble, and he got $16, which he considered only fair play for the time spent and his expenses in making the sale.

—Dr. Bowers, of the Clinton Herald, growls a little in this week's issue of his paper, because the Gazette contains more and fresher Clinton news than finds its way into his own paper. Well, we can't help it, doctor, the readers of the Gazette expect to find it full of fresh news, and we hate to disappoint them by waiting until after the Herald gets hold of some. The Gazette has too many subscribers in and about Clinton for us to slacken up any in the zealous gathering up of all the items which interest them.

—The newsdealers throughout the country are now advertising valentines as "Cupid's amunition," and "the boy's love darts," etc. There is sort of a romantic, summer bowery, sweet-scented lovely kind of a tinge given to the business; but the romance is all knocked to pieces, when one gets one of those darts which are supposed to transfix the heart with delight and send the quick love coursing through the heated blood. How much of Cupid is there in receiving a supposed portrait of yourself, representing your complexion in thirteen different colors, your nose the size of a nail keg, your teeth dropping out, your feet put on wrong side to, and one of them cloven, a wart on one ear, one arm twisted into the shape of a corkscrew, and one leg whittled down like a lead pencil, and the other as having the dropsy, and then a lot of doggerel at the bottom saying all this means you, and that you are a bald-headed, cross-eyed, warty, whisky-drinking, stub and twist old sniveler, and pious fraud, and everybody says so—and this is what they call one of Cupid's darts. A pretty sort of love ammunition that is, isn't it? Oh, Cupid, how many crimes have been committed in thy name, or words to that effect.

A NEW ENTERPRISE.

The Harris Manufacturing Company to Turn Their Attention to Manufacturing Plows.

The incipient stages of a large plow manufacturing enterprise are now in progress of development here. J. P. Zeller, who has been the manager of the Rock Island Chilled Plow Works, is here and is making sundry arrangements with the Harris Manufacturing Company, the final results of which, it is hoped, will be the extensive manufacture of chilled plows at that company's works. As has already been announced the manufacture of the Leader reapers will be transferred to Deering's big works in Chicago after this year, and the company is planning for some branch of manufacturing toward which to direct its capital and labor when the making of reapers ends here. It is with this view that the company is negotiating with Mr. Zeller, who with a number of skilled workmen whom he has brought here with him, are now making patterns, and getting ready to show what kind of plows can be made, with the understanding that this preliminary work may lead to the company taking hold of plow making on a large scale.

Mr. Zeller is really the father of the chilled plow, and controls the patents. With Mr. Oliver, of South Bend, he started what has since developed into one of the largest plow factories in the country, and later has been with Mr. Buford at Rock Island, and to him has been due largely the success of both these great enterprises. He is not only practically familiar with every step in the development of skill in the use of chilled iron, but to his inventive genius much of this development is due, and he is a man of enterprise who is constantly seeking and accomplishing improvements in methods of manufacture. If the preliminary arrangements now being made are successfully carried out the Harris Manufacturing Company will next year engage in the manufacture of these chilled plows on a large scale, and will push the enterprise into a prominence which will make Janesville a plow trade center.

Prentice and Evenson, the Druggists opposite the Post office, Janesville, Wis. Keep nothing but the finest drugs and chemicals. Physicians' prescriptions and family recipes accurately prepared from pure and fresh drugs, cheaper than at any other reliable drug store in the county. All the medicines advertised in this paper are sold by Prentice and Evenson, the Druggists opposite the Post office.

THE WEATHER.

REPORTED BY PRENTICE & EVENSON, DRUGGISTS

The thermometer at 6 o'clock last night stood at 10 degrees above; at 1 o'clock A. M. to-day at 2 degrees above; at 7 o'clock A. M. at 3 degrees below, and at 1 o'clock P. M. at 22 degrees above. Partly cloudy.

The indications to-day are, warmer, partly cloudy weather, possibly followed by snow areas, variable winds, mostly southeasterly, followed by falling barometer.

DRONES TO THE REAR.

One of our prominent manufacturers has penned the following article, which appeared in this week's Times, and as it handles ably some thoughts concerning the needs of Janesville, we gladly give it space in our columns:

We hear some talk about starting another cotton, or hosiery mill in this city. Endorsing the good reasons already set forth in the other papers, we want to say a few words about the beneficial effects of its giving employment to our citizens.

When we arrived in this city years ago, the first thing that particularly attracted our attention, was the large number of idlers on our streets. Most of them were young people. Coming from the east, where every boy and girl as well as man and woman, whether rich or poor, worked, we were at a loss to understand how all this idle population obtained a living. Creditably to them, we have never been able to satisfactorily solve the problem. But we are glad to say, that since the various manufactories of our city have been in operation, these idlers have very sensibly diminished, and the appearance of our streets looks more business-like and healthy.

Our various manufacturing institutions have done more for the industry, good morals and thrift of our people, than all our legislators, lawyers, doctors, preachers, and editors put together. There is no one thing that will so effectually purify and elevate them as constant and useful occupation. What sends so many young people down the broad road to ruin, is the lack of constant employment. The father talks, the mother talks, and the pastor preaches, and the church members pray, but all to little purpose; as long as the young people run idle, they are in the "devil's work shop." Give them good employment and we may make them good men and women, for they are the fathers and the mothers of the comiag generation. Let it become a disgrace not to have some constant and regular employment.

We have a word here to say to our capitalists. Beside its being, as we believe, to their financial interest to build new mills and increase our manufacturing business, we think there rests upon them certain obligations to the poorer classes. Heaven has prospered them with the material comforts and blessings of life, and they should do all they can to pass them along to those less fortunate than themselves. We do not believe giving to the support of the poor is the highest charity. It often increases the evil of poverty. But we do believe the best charity consists in giving them employment, that thereby they may help themselves. And anybody who will not work, we say, let him starve.

As anxious as we are to build churches and school houses—we say it after mature deliberation—we believe that a million dollars put into manufacturing enterprises in this place would do more for the sound health, good morals, intelligence of our people, and our material prosperity, than anything else that can be done. We want to see every person, whether old or young, earning a living. Make Janesville the beehive city of Wisconsin, and kill off all the drones.

We will open this week $20,000 of New Goods for the winter months of 1881. Our large sales for the past three months have reduced our stock so that we we are able to buy nearly a full assortment in all departments, of the newest and latest styles for the next 90 days. We have no old stock to close out, but buying at this time of year we can sell you new, fresh, stylish goods at 10 per cent. less than former prices; on all kinds of Domestics, such as Canton Flannels, Ginghams, Prints, Shirtings, Denims, Tickings, &c., 5 per cent. less than any house in the city, and will continue to do so as long as we are in business. Black and Colored Cashmeres we bought last April when those goods were lower than ever known before. Our Black Cashmeres that cost us 90c are now worth in the market 1.07 1.2, so houses buying from day to day have to pay the advance prices in the busy season. We make a specialty of Kid Gloves, never out of a No. or Button in the leading brands of Kid Gloves. We commence the year of 1881 with a complete assortment of all kinds of First Class Dry Goods.

CHICAGO PITTS!

Forty-sixth season of the old reliable "Chicago Pitts" Separators, the only first-class Apron Machine now in the market adapted for large or small jobs, horse or steam power; the only Apron Machine that threshes and cleans flax and all grains perfectly. "Chicago Pitts" Double Pinion Mounted Horse Powers are the best in the world.

BLACK HAWK

If you want a Vibrator, buy our Black Hawk. Why? Because it is the latest improved machine in the market, having all of the merits and none of the defects of Vibrators, Agitators, Oscillators, etc., now in use. Lighter draft and more durable, its motion is reciprocal, consequently will not shake to pieces. Thoroughly tested. Beats them all in Flax and other kinds of grain. It is simplicity itself. Turns in its own length.

TRACTION ENGINES

The Black Hawk Traction Steam Engine is the best Portable Engine in the world. With non-explosive water-tube boiler, no lodging of sediment. The inner surface is always clean. Water circulation is perfect. It is absolutely safe. Weighs nearly 2000 lbs less than any other of the same size. It burns straw, coal, or wood. It gives more power with less care, and absolutely no danger from explosion. Send for Descriptive Circulars.
